Racing since the age of eight (8) Kayli has won three Bandolero Championships and on Aug. 18, 2012, she became the youngest female to win a NASCAR Whelen All-American Series race.

Today she attends Western Governors University as the recipient of millennium scholarship. Graduating from high school in 2015 with a straight A average and was named the salutatorian of her graduating class.

Strong in her Christian faith, she and her family believe strongly in serving their community. Kayli is proud to represent the Project 150 Youth Council as their Official Spokesperson. Project 150 is a Las Vegas based charitable organization that serves the needs of homeless, displaced, and disadvantaged high school students, helping them to stay in school and graduate. Additionally Kayli volunteers regularly with the Las Vegas Labrador Rescue and other charities in the greater Las Vegas Area.

In conjunction with her service in the community her performance in the classroom and on the track Kayli has been awarded both the Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation Leadership Award and the NASCAR UNOH Youth Achievement Award.

Kayli has celebrated many milestones and achievements in her career already including being the 1st female driver to win three track championships in Las Vegas history and is the youngest female driver to win a NASCAR Whelen All-American series race.

Her goals for the 2017-2018 season include competing in the Lucas Oil Modified Series, winning races and traveling across the country to compete in the K&N East or West Series
